

Academic Concerns	WHO TO CONTACT	HOW
Your child is struggling in one or more classes.	Teacher(s)	Email or Phone
Your child is taking more than 2-1/2 hours a night to complete all his/her homework on a regular basis.	Teacher(s)	Email or Phone
Your child takes more than 45 minutes per night to complete homework for only one class.	Teacher(s)	Email or Phone
Your child seems to have been placed in a class that is insufficiently challenging. (Check with the teacher first and see if the teacher would recommend placement in the next level.)	Teacher	Email or Phone
You feel your child has earned an unfair grade by a particular teacher.	Teacher	Email or Phone

Academic & Other Concerns	WHO TO CONTACT	HOW
Your child is struggling in several classes. (Contact your child's counselor to set up a conference w/ all the teachers.)	Counselor	Email or Phone
Your child is consistently losing assignments, not turning in homework, or seems to have trouble staying organized.	Counselor	Email or Phone
You are concerned that your child is feeling socially isolated at school.	Counselor	Email or Phone
Your child seems to be suffering from excessive school-related stress.	Counselor	Email or Phone
Your child has a sudden change in attitude, work habits or mood. http://www.fcps.edu/HayfieldSS/stu_services/ms_students_services.html	Counselor	Email or Phone

Attendance	WHO TO CONTACT	HOW
Your child needs to be out of school and you know in advance – go to: http://www.fcps.edu/HayfieldSS/Admin/attendance.html	Attendance Office	Email or Phone

Parent Involvement	WHO TO CONTACT	HOW
You would like to be more involved at the school as a parent, but are unsure of your options: http://www.hssptsa.org/	PTSA	Email

Student Involvement	WHO TO CONTACT	HOW
You believe your child would benefit from becoming more involved in extracurricular activities, but seems unwilling to take the initiative. (Look at the after-school activity page on the website; talk to your child about their interest; email the sponsor directly about the activity and find out details.) http://www.fcps.edu/HayfieldSS/Activities/index_cluborange.html	After School Coordinator	Email