

AP English Literature Choice Board

Summer learning loss is real! Don't let it happen to you! While there is no required summer work for AP English Literature, we strongly encourage you to maintain and improve your academic skills with some of the options on this board. If you need to be convinced, read this quick article about research into summer learning loss.

<h2>Characterization</h2> Starting at 5:45, watch this College Board video, and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose. You do NOT have to write the essay that the teachers give for homework.	<h2>Setting</h2> Starting at 11:55, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.	<h2>Structure</h2> Starting at 11:17, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.
<h2>Point of View</h2> Starting at 8:37, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose. You do NOT have to write an essay if Mr. Escobar or Mrs. Barber gives directions to write one for homework.	<h2>Contrasts & Figurative Language</h2> Starting at 13:45, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.	<h2>Contrasts Between Characters</h2> Starting at 6:00, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.
<h2>Setting (a deeper dive)</h2> Starting at 3:33, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.	<h2>Symbolism</h2> Starting at 11:00, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.	<h2>Narration</h2> Starting at 8:34, watch this College Board video and follow along in order to complete this worksheet. Preview the worksheet before watching the video so that you're watching with a purpose.

Choice Novel

Choose and read one of the following novels from the selected list!